RE: Red, White and Blue Thrift Store at
Flamingo Plaza Shopping Center
901 East 10 Avenue, Unit 12
Hialeah, Florida 33010

To Whom It May Concern:

The above-referenced retail establishment has been in operation, under the same name, in the City of Hialeah, since November 27, 1989. This is a family-oriented type of establishment that serves numerous members of the community that enjoy shopping for affordable merchandise. It serves close to 30,000 customers monthly and employs close to 100 people from our community.

The store's exterior is very well kept, the windows attractively display the merchandise and the sign that identifies the business is well-designed. The interior of the store is properly organized and very well-serviced. To the best of our knowledge, this retail establishment has never experienced code violations and we have never had any negative incidents that required the attention of the Planning Division.

Red, White and Blue Thrift Store is an asset to the City of Hialeah and adjacent communities for the employment opportunity, fine service and impeccable image they offer to the City of Hialeah and surrounding communities.
